

Case Study

- ▶ Testing twice a week has now been mandated for staff. We are doing it in-house but it has its own obstacles with time constraints and the number that need to be tested. Everyone is overwhelmed and nothing is getting better. We all seem to feel beaten down. Which leads to burn out. Seasoned nurses saying enough is enough. I am going to sit the rest of this one out.

